Andy Fenwick said that he backed off this morning because he wanted to save the tyres and the car.

David Bogie changed his suspension and he felt the car was going much better however, he can't find the maximum grip level on the road.

Euan Thorburn said that Stage 5 wasn't so good because he could not get a rhythm and missed a lot of gears.

Jimmy Girvan and Mike Ramsay said it was pure perfect for them. And Steve Bannister also had a good stage although "it has taken some time to warm up the tyres".

Keith Robathan said his car's steering alignment was out, which means he is having to back off as he doesn't have total faith in the car.

Barry Groundwater said he was losing the brakes on the long straights but all in all it was much better.

The battle of the local SRC-registered Peugeot 205 drivers is led by 17-year-old Garry Pearson of Duns and Ross Hynd, also 17, from Irvine. Following a third in class on the Granite City, Pearson and Hynd head into today's tarmac test with ever-increasing confidence. Garry currently sits sixth in both the SRC Junior and Class 3 title races, whereas Ross occupies third spot in the Class 3 co-driver standings.
